Surgex sponsors National Ski Patrol

Lakewood, Colo. – Inergetics, a company that manufactures the Surgex nutritional supplement, has partnered with the National Ski Patrol (NSP) to provide NSP patrollers with a sports nutrition formula to assist them in reducing the damaging effects of exercise, levels of stress, inflammation, and fatigue, as well as to protect lean muscle mass. This Surgex formula is scientifically designed to increase stamina, improve endurance, and quicken recovery time so patrollers can hit the hill hard every day.

"We are happy to announce that Surgex has become the Official Nutritional Partner of the National Ski Patrol," said NSP Executive Director Tim White. "Surgex will be a valuable part of helping patrollers serve the public at maximum efficiency in the often harsh conditions they work in on the slopes.

"We are deeply honored to have entered into a strategic partnership as the Official Nutritional Partner for the 28,000 members of the National Ski Patrol," stated Mark Mirken, CEO of Inergetics. "The skiing public, which is extremely active, is loyal to the NSP."

NSP patrollers can purchase Surgex products on the NSP Pro Page at a discounted rate. For more information about Surgex, go to http://www.surgexsports.com/products/product\_overview.php.
